

Our priest, Martha Tatarnic, was raised in the small town of Hanover Ontario, completed a degree in music at the University of Western Ontario, and then graduated from Trinity College, University of Toronto with a Master of Divinity. Before moving with her family to Orillia in 2009, she worked as an Associate Priest in Oakville.

Martha's particular area of study while at Trinity was "Mass Media and the Church," and as a young mother navigating family life through the continually changing waters of modern-day life, she is passionate about connecting the dots, building the bridges between our faith, worship, and Bible, and the concerns, joys, questions, stresses, worries, celebrations, of Right Here, Right Now.

Martha also enjoys contributing regular articles to our local community magazine, North Simcoe News, and writes an on-line blog. You can check out her musings at:
